About us

When Pelling launched in 1981, we set out to provide clients with a service that was second to none.

30 years later and we still assure clients are offered a superior, more economical service than our competitors provide.

Maintaining client satisfaction at all times, we can enhance the relationship you have with your customer by delivering a wide range of quality marketing services from logo and literature design, website design and build to fully managed html email campaigns, point of sale and exhibitions.

Pelling manage each of these projects right through from concept to end product.

As of April 2008, Pelling Marketing by Design became a Limited company, with long time designer James Gubbins taking the reigns. With one eye firmly on the future James and his well experienced creative team wish to continue the success and build on the values that we believe matter - good value, high quality design and marketing.
